PROFILE

Product marketer with seven years in B2B software, focused on positioning, launches, customer research, and sales enablement. Strong strategic partner to Product and Sales, with limited direct ownership of paid acquisition and lifecycle execution.

EXPERIENCE

Product Marketing Manager

SparrowGrid, New York | May 2021 - Present

- Own positioning and launch plans for an operations-planning platform used by multi-location businesses.
- Led 28 customer and prospect interviews that informed a new segmentation model and increased win rate in the target segment by 9 percentage points.
- Created sales plays, competitive briefs, and onboarding materials used by a 45-person sales organization.
- Partner with Demand Generation on campaign messaging and webinar content; paid media and budget ownership sit with a separate team.

Senior Product Marketing Specialist

AtlasSecure, New York | January 2019 - April 2021

- Supported launches for cloud-security products across North America and the United Kingdom.
- Built a competitive intelligence program and quarterly battlecards that improved seller confidence in internal surveys.
- Worked with content and events teams on integrated campaign briefs and post-launch analysis.

Marketing Associate

TrellisWorks, New York | July 2017 - December 2018

- Coordinated product announcements, customer references, and sales-training sessions.
- Maintained the marketing calendar and assisted with quarterly planning.
