Rosa Martinez

Social and Community Lead

Los Angeles, California | rosa.martinez@example.com | linkedin.com/in/rosa-martinez-community

PROFILE

Social and community marketing lead with seven years of experience building audience relationships, creator programs, and culturally relevant campaigns. Strong voice and engagement instincts, with developing experience in formal positioning and broader brand measurement.

EXPERIENCE

Social and Community Lead

Luma Skincare, Los Angeles | April 2021 - Present

- Own social strategy, creator partnerships, and customer community programs for a plant-based skincare company.
- Grew engaged community membership from 18,000 to 61,000 and increased average organic saves by 44% through education-led content series.
- Developed a creator testing framework and managed $350,000 in annual creator and production spend.
- Partner with Brand and Product teams on campaign concepts, cultural reviews, and launch storytelling.

Social Media Manager

Goodweather Apparel, Los Angeles | January 2019 - March 2021

- Managed daily social publishing, influencer seeding, community response, and launch support across five channels.
- Created monthly reporting on reach, engagement, creator efficiency, and referral traffic.
- Supported a brand refresh by translating updated messaging into social voice and content guidelines.

Community Coordinator

Poppy Market, Los Angeles | July 2017 - December 2018

- Responded to customer questions and coordinated local pop-up events for an independent marketplace.
- Collected recurring customer feedback and shared themes with merchandising and customer care.

EDUCATION

BA, Communication Studies - California State University, Long Beach, 2017

SKILLS

Social strategy, community management, creator partnerships, content calendars, social listening, brand voice, campaign storytelling, reporting, budget management

CERTIFICATIONS

Sprout Social Platform Certification; Meta Certified Digital Marketing Associate